From the Desk of Father James

Dear Parishioners,

You may have heard about the relics of some modern saints visiting our diocese this week: Bl. Carlo Acutis and St. Manuel Gonzales Garcia. The relics of these two holy men will be in our area this week and I wanted to write a bit about that.

The veneration of relics is one of the more beautiful practices of our Church. A relic is an object that has a strong association with a particular saint. "First class" relics are the mortal remains of a saint (typically a small piece of bone); "second class" relics are objects that were owned by the saint; "third class" relics are objects, such as rosaries or holy cards, that have been touched to a first class relic.

The Old Testament is replete with reference to the power of relics. Three prime examples are: the staff of Aaron which was kept in the Ark of the covenant (Numbers 17), the mantle of Elijah which was used as an instrument for God's power (2 Kings 2), and the bones of Elisha which raised a man from the dead (2 Kings 13).

The tradition of venerating relics is also present in the New Testament. The most obvious case is Acts 19: the people would touch their handkerchiefs to the apostles and bring those handkerchiefs home to cure sick relatives.

This tradition of venerating relics has continued throughout the whole history of the Church up to the present. While our Protestant brothers and sisters may accuse us of idolatry, we know that this is just one of the many beautiful ways in which God wishes to work in our lives. Miracles associated with relics happen literally every day. Some stories occasionally make the news, such as the blind Arizona woman who regained her sight in 2017 while venerating the relics of St. Charbel, but 99.9% of the miracles get little or no publicity.

The relics of Bl. Carlo and St. Manuel will be at the following places: Sun May 28 7am-2pm at Holy Redeemer Church in Warren; Tues May 30 4pm to 8pm at St Leo's in Ridgway; Wed May 31 4pm-8pm at St Catharine's in Dubois; and Thur June 1 8am-10am at St. Joe's in Oil City.

I encourage you to do a little research on your own to learn a bit about who Bl. Carlo Acutis and St. Manuel Gonzales are.

In Christ,
Fr. James
