From the Desk of Father James

Dear Parishioners,

This weekend we celebrate Father's Day. It is a day to express our love for our fathers. We also want to let them know of our gratitude for all the sacrifices they have made for their families. These men, though not perfect, have given their lives to provide for, protect, and lead the families that God has entrusted to their care.

The role of father is one that cannot be underestimated. While the mother is often the source of warmth and love in the home, it is the father who, statistically, has a greater impact on the future success of the children. Study after study has shown that the relationship with the father has a strong and direct correlation on the future of the children. On a negative note, we have all heard about studies that have shown a connection between absentee fathers and the future incarceration of the children. Likewise, I know of plenty of studies that have shown that the religious practice of the father has a much stronger impact than the mother on the future religious practice of the children. Fathers really are the head of the household: the children will follow wherever they lead.

Fathers have been given this great responsibility. This Sunday is an opportunity to show our love and appreciation for the role they play in our lives. Also we pray that God will bless them and give them strength in the fulfillment of their duties.

In Christ,

Father James
